

The Philosophy Faculty of the Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn invites applications for a

W 2 Professorship Social Anthropology of Southeast Asia with an emphasis on labour relations and dependency research

The professorship is for a five year position with a tenure track option and is to be filled as soon as possible.

We are looking for applicants with a background in anthropology (social anthropology, cultural anthropology, ethnology) or Southeast Asian Studies. Requirements are a broad knowledge of cultural or social anthropology and empirical research experience in Southeast Asia.

Preference will be given to applicants with research experience on the subject of social relations and forms of work that are characterised by dependency and asymmetrical power relations (such as unfree labour, slavery, asymmetric labour relations, dependence). An explicit openness for historical issues and questions is expected. The chosen candidate will be expected to take a leading role in the development of the Bonn Center for Dependency and Slavery Studies (www.dependency.uni-bonn.de).

Applicants are required to have a completed university degree (Master, Magister or Staatsexamen), a PhD as well as a Habilitation or equivalent publications in a subject relevant to the subject of unfree and dependent labour relations. The successful applicant will be expected to have experience in interdisciplinary research teams and in working internationally. Extensive teaching experience and the successful acquisition of third-party research funding is expected.

Bonn University is an equal opportunities employer. Applicants are invited to submit their application (curriculum vitae, list of publications, list of taught courses, certificates and document copies) and a brief summary of previous and current research work to the Dean of the Philosophical Faculty of Bonn University Bonn (Am Hof 1, D-53113 Bonn) in electronic form (one pdf-file of max. 5 MB) to philfak.berufungen@uni-bonn.de by the 15th of February, 2018.
